The first day of karate

Today Mom signed us up for a karate class. We went there with Ciara. Mommy dropped us off there. I got the prize for the best kick and the best job. I learned how to do a lot of karate. I learned how to kick and punch at the same time. Mom packed us a chocolate soymilk and a peanut butter and jelly sandwich.

For snacks she packed us a granola bar and an apple. Then

we had reading time

and we also got to play with the iPad 2.

There were three levels <sup>in karate -</sup> level 1, level 2, and level 3. I was in level 2.
