What we did

Today Mommy signed us up for a place called little gym.

In two days we will go there and play with water balloons.

They are balloons filled with water and if you throw them against anything, they burst and all the water splatters everywhere. After we went to little gym Mom took us to Starbucks coffee.

There was a sample of caramel coffee. I tried some. It was good. Mom bought us a hot chocolate each. YUM. Then we went home and Mom gave us a foot ^{massage}
