

July
25
2011

Lily's house

Yesterday we went to Lily's house for her twin brother's birthday party and we played in her room. She had a tent. We put it up and took her portable T.V. into it. We watched Hercules the Disney version. Then we played in Lillian's bouncy castle.

I kept falling down. Lily told me that at 7:00 in the morning she played in the bouncy house when she was still in her pajamas. There was even a basket ball hoop inside the bouncy castle. We had a lot of fun.