My Grandfather

My Grandfather lives in India. He lives in the Orient building. He writes us letters almost all the time. He has a big bowl of marbles and we play games with ^{them}. My favorite game is when we close our eyes and we have to try to guess if the number of marbles is odd or even. Anya always guesses even. She likes to make up her own game with the marbles. He watches horse races. He took me once and I watched the race on a really big T.V. I love him.
